In accordance with the final Regulation – Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (Buckley Act) dated June 17, 1977, it is no longer necessary to obtain written consent to release academic and health records between schools. It states that school officials, including teachers within the educational institution and officials of other schools in school systems in which they intend to enroll, may receive a student's records without written consent for such release. Thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter. If you have any questions, please be sure to call our offices at the numbers given above.
